GAME OVER

Dear Editor,

I think the ZELDA comic is great. I sure hope Link gets to kiss Zelda one day.

It's always hard to know what's going to happen between Link and Zelda, Robert. We have it on good authority, however, that the princess is definitely, positively, absolutely, and shortly planning to let Link kiss her... maybe.

Dear Creators of ZELDA,

I really like your comic book of Zelda. It's great how you put the Zelda 1 and 2 games together to make such great stories. I'm a real big fan of Zelda, and an even bigger fan of Link.

My dad and I both have been working on Zelda. My dad even went out and bought a Nintendo for himself, to play when he's travelling, even though I have a Nintendo of my own. He got it just to play Zelda! Now, we're at level 3, and we brought Ganon and we died. But we're going to try again.

"Fast Editor" Maxwell
Foxchold, NJ

Thanks, Editor, for telling us about your readers! We hope you'll both keep fighting the good fight—it's the only way to win.

(We also think your dad was very smart, to buy a second Nintendo system. That kind of action could solve a lot of family disputes...)

To Whomever It May Concern,

I'm 14 years old, and a comic book collector. When I first saw THE LEGEND OF ZELDA, I wasn't too impressed. But I decided to buy it anyway. It was great! The artwork was excellent, some of the best I've seen. The wording was great, too. I didn't have any trouble telling who was talking. And the background information was great, too. I knew what was going on. It was a good adventure.

Well, you know what they say: "You can't judge a book by its cover." Make that a comic book, in this case.

Anyhow, I think you all have nothing to worry about, it was excellent!

Alex Martin
Tallahassee, FL

P.S. Keep up the great work!

We're not worried, Alex, we're happy that you wrote. Your comment is definitely concern us, and we are glad to get 'em. Thanks for your support!

Dear Voyager,

I am inspired by your great comic, THE LEGEND OF ZELDA! It takes a great imagination to make up stories about an adventurer who risks his life killing Statues, and Moblins, and all the rest of Ganon's boss just to save the land of Hyrule and the Triforce.

I think "The Legend of Zelda" and the "Adventures of Link" are both great Nintendo games! Are you coming out with a Zelda 3?

Thomas DeLapierre
New York, NY

"Just" to save Hyrule and the Triforce??? Princess Zelda might have an argument with you about that wording, Thomas—that's her land you're talking about!

Dear Link,

I am a big fan of yours, and I love playing The Legend of Zelda. I think you should make a Zelda 3. And, you should make it a two-player game.

Well, Link, I've got a problem. My sister likes to play Zelda. And when she does, she keeps on continuing her game and I don't get a chance to play. What should I do? Please write back.

Jucker LaGrow
Detroit, MI

P.S. I think you should know that I really like you A LOT.

Two requests for a Zelda 3 game, or just one column? Hm. Could this be the start of a trend? In fact, Zelda 3 is in development right now, and we'll be announcing its estimated time of arrival very soon.

Now, about your sister. Have you tried asking her to share the game? How about begging? You could always try a special trick tactic, like carrying the game cartridge with you everywhere—but remember, you may be risking all-out family warfare! So far, we still think Fast Zelda's idea has the best solution.

Dear Voyagers/Nintendo Comics,

I just finished reading the first issue of THE LEGEND OF ZELDA. It was great!

How are some of my questions what and where is Link's homeland? Does Link have any brothers, or sisters? Why did Zelda want the magic flute?

And, can you put in a page where you print letters from kids like me, and answer their questions?

Monty Congdon
Fairfield, IA

1) Link is from Kakariko, you'll find its location marked on the map of Hyrule printed in issue #1. 2) So far, no brothers or sisters have been seen—but that doesn't mean there aren't any. 3) The magic flute transports whoever blows it far away, and Zelda wanted to go far away. 4) YES!!
